

New edition – FRIESEN “Check it!” garage information for starters & alternators

Various training seminars at our production facility in Oranienburg have clearly indicated that there is still a need for clarification in the trade and garage areas with regard to the evaluation of damage to starters & alternators.

These complex topics have led us to supplement the existing brochure and to include your practical experience and information. This new edition now contains even more comprehensive practical know-how. With its help the process of searching and locating the cause of malfunctions (for which the product itself is frequently not responsible) is now even quicker and easier.

Use this tool to successfully optimise your business dealings with customers.

You can download the new brochures as PDF files or in paper form from our website www.quintonhazell.de or at www.friesen-team.de.

Gut gemacht.
